Dear Readers:

Spinner Publications and Marsha Hall Brown, author of Under Sun Stars and Sails: A Whaling Family's Life at Sea, invite you to help make this project possible. Below is a description of how you can become a part of this important addition to the history of whaling.

Spinner Publications of New Bedford, Massachusetts is an award-winning, non-profit publishing house with a mission to preserve the history and culture of southeastern New England. As a nonprofit organization, Spinner relies on public support. All funds will be used to complete editorial development, design, imaging, research and printing, and all donations are tax deductible.

In Under Sun Stars and Sails, Marsha Hall Brown's fifth book, the author pays tribute to her Nantucket roots and to her whaling forbearers. Advance reviews from readers and critics in southern New England and Toronto have been heartening and the Foreword by James Russell, Director of Nantucket Historical Association, is a positive endorsement.

Publication date is April 2019. Eleven book-signing events are planned in New England and California.

We look forward to hearing from you very soon.
